

The Alice Gillies Award

The Alice Gillies Award has been established to honor an RA Photo Club member who has contributed in a significant way to the life of the Club, and to photography in general.

This person has been a member of the RA Photo Club for at least five years.

This member attends, or has attended, RA Photo Club meetings regularly.

This member has demonstrated a commitment to the goals of the RA Photo Club by active participation in Club activities over many years, such as membership on the Club executive or as a member of a Club committee or as a volunteer in Club activities.

All RA Photo Club members in good standing, excluding Life Members, are eligible for the Alice Gillies Award. However, a Club member can only receive the award once.

The recipient of the Alice Gillies Award will be chosen by a committee named by the Club executive. All Club members in good standing may submit the name or names of potential recipients to the committee. The committee will then recommend a name to the Club executive, who will make the final decision.

Only one recipient of the Alice Gillies Award will be named each year. However, the Club executive is not required to make an award in any one particular year.
